

THOUGHT PROCESS

In the areas where we want to engage in Native American Metropolitan Revolution work, we can take functioning businesses and help refresh your business model

We can also take worthy new ideas and turn them into significant business opportunities through this work.

While engaging in developing new economic metric models we will be serving Native Americans and others. This work is ultimately intended to uplift everyone we can serve.

We would observe, over 70% of American Indians live in cities and outlying urban areas.

NATIVE AMERICAN

Metropolitan Revolution "Innovate Business"

BASIC IDEA

The idea of a Metropolitan Revolution is the concept of how cities and metros are fixing fragile economic models. The Brookings Institute really framed these ideas well as you may have seen in the videos on our website.

However, the idea could be significantly amplified under a tribal model. This is where public-private partnerships can dramatically flourish. Our model forges governmental and business relations at new levels. Both new housing options and economic pursuits are key here.

ADVANTAGE OF THE NATIVE MODEL

A significant advantage resides within this model because we can partner with an American Indian tribe and drive more forceful results.

Normally under these pursuits non-profits are doing great work, and investors are coming in for some financial/social/marketing benefits.

We can harness the same ideas here; however, a tribal model can advance to investors and collaborators more dramatic financial results.

Please note, some of these techniques are proprietary to our business model, therefore, confidential. We would be glad to share some detailed information in a brief conference call. Touch here to send an email request.

COLLABORATION POTENTIAL

We're currently interested in collaborations in various cities. From areas in California, Oklahoma, Wisconsin, Chicago metros and elsewhere.

It is worth noting, tribes are located all over the country in 35 individual states. Nationally there are currently 574 tribes in the USA. Each of these tribes have business development opportunities and needs.
