

THOUGHT PROCESS

Depending on the consulting work that you need, we are aware of contracting and grant opportunities in various parts of the federal and state governments.

This work can harness preferences that are available to tribes as a potential JV partner. We can consult with you on these types of pursuits.

We can also take worthy new ideas and turn them into significant business opportunities through this work. Think of this as an advanced way to pursue R&D work.

Tribes are now open for business!

BASIC IDEA

What kind of consulting work do you need done? Do you need a grant written for a tribal project or a business proposal? Are you trying to grow a new business or refresh and older one?

Our founder is a former elected tribal official. He served from 1997 through 2014. He has been working with tribes since 1985. He has raised hundreds of millions of dollars over the last 35 years. We know tribes, we know grants, and we know business. We also have a team which spans the entire country, so we have reach.

Tribes really are the new frontier markets in the country, which most investors or business owners are not aware of.

ADVANTAGE OF THE NATIVE MODEL

Depending on the type of consulting you need, maybe we can leverage a new tribal business license for yourself.

As we've outlined in the JV section of the website, significant advantage resides within our business model.

Please note, some of these techniques are proprietary to our business model, therefore, confidential. We would be glad to share some detailed information in a brief conference call. Touch here to send an email request.

COLLABORATION POTENTIAL

As you think about your consulting needs, remember, tribes are located all over the country in 35 individual states. We have access to millions of acres of land for business developments if that is needed.

Nationally there are currently 574 tribes in the USA. Each of these tribes have business development opportunities, interest and needs.
